

The Printing House Ltd.™ (TPH®) has launched a new and exciting product line – elephoto!

TPH® has been a trusted Canadian printer for business across the country for almost 50 years and now they have produced something new for consumers and business alike.

Your Touch. Your Story.

With the rise of digital photography, Canadians are taking more pictures than ever, but many of those pictures get hidden away on hard drives or posted en-masse to social media sites.

“Elephoto helps you tell your story through the power of touch. An elegant, professionally bound photobook that you design is the perfect way to combine the photos of your favourite moments with the memories and story about them. You choose the story you want to tell and let Elephoto help you capture those memories and share them for years to come.” – Says Vice-President of Marketing for TPH® and Elephoto, Marc Petitpas.

Although the website has been launched there is still more to come. Over the next few months additional features will be added to the site including photo greeting cards, calendars and much more!

Elephoto – a uniquely Canadian product, produced for Canadians by Canadians.
