

The Printing House Ltd.™ (TPH®) wins Gold for the “Most Environmentally Progressive Manufacturing Process or Service, Printer” in Canada.

The 5th Annual Environmental Printing Awards presented by PrintAction magazine, “recognizes excellence in Canadian environmental stewardship across the print-based communications supply chain”; it includes vendors and printers as well as print consumers. This program awards Companies within a number of categories focused on progressive environmental practices and processes.

The fifth annual awards ceremony was held on April 8, 2010 in Toronto whereby TPH® was recognized with the Gold award for the “Most Environmentally Progressive Manufacturing Process or Service, Printer” in Canada for their Heidelberg Speedmaster SM52 with Anicolor Inking technology. TPH® was the first company in Canada to purchase this unique technology that delivers exceptional 4-colour process, sheet-fed offset quality with minimal environmental impact. TPH® has shown the ability to lead with environmentally-responsible programs throughout its network of 70 Company-owned locations all of which are tri-certified in the Chain of Custody Programs; Forest Stewardship Council (FSC), Programme for the Endorsement of Forest Certification Schemes (PEFC) and Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI).

Scott O’Born, Vice-President, TPH®, comments: “Since the day we purchased this new technology we knew that it would set the benchmark for environmentally-conscientious offset machinery. It has helped drive the importance of the environment to our Customers and has better positioned us to provide them with a responsible solution for all of their on-demand quick printing and communication needs; a win for them, for their Customers, and our environment.”
