

Earle O’Born, TPH® President and CEO honored as a 2008 Entrepreneur of the Year

Earle O’Born, President & CEO of The Printing House Ltd™ (TPH®) was recently honored as a 2008 Entrepreneur of the Year for Ontario in the Business-to-Business category. Earle and 38 other Entrepreneurs were recognized as finalists in several categories including Ted Rogers for a Lifetime Achievement Award.

The Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year Awards honor individuals who have demonstrated enormous success in the areas of company performance, risk taking, leadership and innovation, and who have made a significant contribution to Canadian business. This year, the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year program is proud to celebrate 15 years of honoring the country’s most impressive Entrepreneurs from all areas of business.

Earle O’Born, who began his career as a typesetter, opened the first TPH® location in 1961, and was one of the first “instant printers” in North America. Today, TPH® has grown into Canada’s largest privately-owned branch networks with 70 locations across Canada. Specializing in on-demand quick printing, TPH® continues to invest in leading-edge and emerging technologies and is still recognized as one of the industry’s change agents; in 2007 Earle was also named ‘Canadian Printer of the Year’ by Graphic Monthly Magazine.
